

- 9:15 Arndt Brendecke (München): Introduction
- 9:30 Daniela Hacke (Berlin): Empire of the Senses. Sensory Practices in Early America
- 10:45 Coffee Break
- 11:15 Philip Hahn (Tübingen): Objects, senses, and the limits of transculturation, or: How a sixteenth-century patrician from Ulm became a button maker in Tripoli
- 12:30 Lunch
- 13:30 William Tullett (London): Smell and the Atmospherics of Privacy in Eighteenth-century England
- 14:45 Coffee Break
- 15:15 Marius Buning (Berlin): Urban Odours. The Management of Stench in Seventeenth-Century Leiden and Batavia
- 16:30 Final Discussion

History of the Senses

Research Seminar in Early Modern History

Friday 2. February 2018
 Venue: Historisches Kolleg
 Kaulbachstrasse 15, München
 Contact: brendan.roeder@lmu.de

FUNDAMENTE
DER MODERNE